THE NEWS DURING THE PRES-IDENTIAL CAMPAIGN.

We desire to have the News largely circulated during the Presidential campaign. The larger our subscription list the more effectively will we be enabled to work, and to this end we trust our readers and patrons will exert themselves somewhat in adding to our present list. The nation will in November elect for GREELY and BROWN, and essential that North Carolina should go herself squarely on this liberal movement—for such a consummation will earnestly labor.

In order to place the DAILY and WEEKLY News within the reach of all, we will send them for a period of four months at the following rates:

We trust our friends in the State will assist us in adding names to our list, as a little exertion on their part we can be enabled to accomplish much good during the present campaign.

VOL. I.

RALEIGH, N. C., FRIDAY MORNING, AUGUST 16, 1872.

NO. 144.

A MELANCHOLY TRAGEDY AT BOON HILL!A YOUNG MARRIED LADY COMMITS SUICIDE.

NO CAUSE ASSIGNED FOR THE RASH ACT.

CORONER'S INQUEST.

PARTICULARS.

Wednesday morning the unusually quiet village of Boon Hill, Johnson county, about thirty miles from this city on the North Carolina Railroad, was thrown into a most violent and frenzied excitement by the startling announcement that an estimable young married lady of the village had taken her life with her own hands. The fact of the high social position of the lady, and that of her husband, together with the fact that there was no apparent cause for the sad act, only heightened and increased the excitement.

The circumstances attending the melancholy affair, as gleaned by the News reporter during the few minutes that the train remained at the Depot yesterday morning, are as follows:

The unfortunate lady was Rachael Perry, the wife of R. B. Perry, Esq., a prominent young merchant of Boon Hill. She was the daughter of Mr.
Herring, a highly respectable and influential citizen of Lagrange, a small town on the Atlantic and North Carolina Rail Road, and was married to Mr. Perry about three months ago. The marriage was said to be a happy one. Mr. Perry, the member of a large and influential family of Johnson, was not only a young man of fine business capacity and habits, but strictly sober and deservedly popular in his section. The young couple after their marriage were comfortably settled in the village, and both seemed happy and contented. Every wish of the young wife was gratified by the generous and lavish hand of her devoted husband, even the household cares of the small family were transferred to a maiden aunt of Mr. Perry's, who lived in the house with them. Several days ago the father and mother of Mrs. Perry came on a visit to their daughter, and left her home on Tuesday morning; before leaving, Mrs. P. asked her father to let her go with her home. He replied to wait a week till her husband would have time to come with her, when he could enjoy the company of both. During the day Mrs. P. went to the whiskey distillery of her husband, a short distance from the residence, and asked of the superintendent how to manipulate a small Smith and Wesson pistol she exhibited. He did so, not thinking that she contemplated any thing more than a little fun.
At night she retired as usual, her husband discovering not the slightest change in her manners or her usual good spirits. At daylight she arose, and walked in the garden, leaving her husband sleeping in bed. Her Aunt, who was up at the time, thought something strange of her getting up so soon, though unusual. A pistol shot was heard by the lady in the house, who attributed the noise to the bursting of a cider barrel hoop, as there were several in an adjoining house. After the lapse of about five minutes another shot was heard in the garden, which had the effect of startling the Aunt, who immediately went to see the cause.
On arriving at the garden house, the pistol was fired again, and entering she found her niece down on the floor, with the pistol still clutched in her fingers, and three shots in her throat.
She never spoke and only lived a few moments.

Mr. Perry was aroused, and hastening to the scene, saw his young bride gasping in the last agonies of death.

No cause is assigned for this rash act, the general impression being that the lady was laboring under a temporary mental aberration, caused doubt by excessive grief in parting with her parents the day before. She was quite young, only 20 years of age, and during her short residence at Boon Hill, had endeared herself through the agency of her mild and gentle disposition to all and every one. The sad occurrence has cast a general gloom over the village, and the sympathies of all are truly enlisted with the young heart-broken husband.

A coroner's jury was being formed when our reporter left the place, a report of which we will publish to-morrow.

RE-INTERRED.—Dep. Sheriff Mag-nien yesterday morning resurrected from the garden of Tom Griffice, one of the accomplices in the Hicks' outrage, a number of shoes, cloth, &c., which was identified as a portion of the goods stolen from Mr. Hicks on last Saturday night. The officer had reason to believe that a large portion of the stolen goods were concealed on the premises of the said Griffice, and yesterday morning when the prisoners were fed, Mack Watson, colored, the cook at the jail, was sent into the cell alone, with instructions to inform Griffice that the officer would, in the course of the day dig up his lot, and if he (Griffice) wanted to send any instructions to any one what to do he (Watson) would bear the message. Griffice then sent word by Mack to his wife, to go to a certain part of the garden and take up a bag that was buried. The officer being informed, went to the spot and found the bag, as above stated.

"BLASTING POWDER FOR GREELY MEN."—The issue of the second series of Blasting Powder will commence on Monday next, when the subscribers to the first series will receive the first number containing the fullest election returns. Mr. Spelman is not the man to be discouraged by defeat of any kind, and we understand he commences the publication of the new series under the most encouraging auspices. The people, he says, are mad at the frauds practiced upon them, and are eager for the coming contest, trusting to the Legislature to give protection to honest voters in November.

The Demonstration To-night!

PREPARATIONS MADE FOR A GRAND REJOICING!The Procession to Form at the Governor's Mansion.

A GLORIOUS TIME ANTICIPATED!

LET ALL TURN OUT THAT CAN.

At a meeting of the Marshals yesterday it was decided to form the procession this evening at the Gubernatorial Mansion, the only important change made in the previous programme. The Chief Marshal requests everybody to be prompt at the spot by 7 1/2 o'clock, where the torches and transparencies will be in readiness.

The various special committees are requested to have every thing in readiness and proper time at the appointed hour. Let every man of the committee work to day for the success of the movement. Be on hand early to night and let there be a united action. Come one, come all, and join in the general shout of rejoicing.

KEROSENE EXPLOSION.—A WOMAN FATALLY BURNED.—A colored woman by the name of Davis, living in the Rock Branch section of the city, while handling a kerosene lamp yesterday night, accidentally turned it over on her dress, when the lamp exploded setting fire to her person. Notwithstanding there were several persons present that did all in their power to relieve her from her perilous situation, she was fatally burned, it is believed.
She is now lying at the point of death, with very little hope of recovery.

At the time of the unfortunate accident her husband was lying a corpse in the house. This is but another sad lesson of the great danger attending the use of this dangerous combustible compound.

P. S. Since the above was in type Davis has released the unfortunate woman from her suffering.

INTIMIDATION.—CONFLICT OF CHURCH AND STATE.—Wm. Dunn, col., living near Forestville, in this county, voted on election day for Sidney M. Dunn, Esq., his former master, who was the Democratic candidate for Sheriff, but voted the rest of the Republican ticket.
For this act he now stands arraigned before his church for violation of his league oath, wherein he is required to support the Republican nominees. We furthermore learn that he was visited on Saturday night last by a negro mob, from which he escaped by flight to the woods—and still this party of new moralists, neither intimidates nor comments fraud—oh no.

News.—The Hillsboro Recorder publishes an account of the Hicks outrage near this city, taken from the Era, in which it says the robbers went there in a phaeton and knocked Mr. Hicks down at his smokehouse. This is certainly news to the citizens of Raleigh, and as such, we publish it.

The News sent its own reporter to the scene of action immediately after the occurrence. He saw no smokehouse on the premises and heard nothing of the phaeton transportation of the robbers, therefore we shall hold him to a strict accountability for not finding out as much at the place as other reporters can at a distance.

AN OX THIEF ARRESTED.—At an early hour yesterday morning application was made at the butcher pen of A.
H. Temple, about two miles from this city, to sell an ox by a negro whose name we have forgotten. Mr. Temple, upon investigation, had reason to believe that the ox had been stolen, and at once arrested the party and brought him to the city guard house. He was turned over to Justice J. D. Hays, of House's Creek Township, who held an investigation of the case yesterday.

PERSONAL INTELLIGENCE.—Capt. L.
R. Exline, General Superintendent of the Deep River Navigation Company, was in the city yesterday.

Hon. D. G. Fowle and family have returned to the city from the sea side.

City Treasurer Churchill will return from New York to-day.

Hon. W. N. H. Smith returned to the city yesterday.

Donald W. Bain, Esq., chief clerk of the Treasury Department, was in his office yesterday, but is yet quite feeble.
A trip to the seaside we think would be highly beneficial to our friend, who is debilitated by close confinement and arduous, incessant labors.

A hat has been picked up between this city and Carey, on the R.
& A. L. R., supposed to belong to a city official. Whose hat is it?

NOON DISPATCHES.

Failure.—The Party Arrested.

LOUISVILLE, August 14.

To-day an enormous business failure was developed here, involving one of the most prominent business men in the city. Robert Alwood, a leading insurance agent, and a member of the pork packing firm. He has been heavily speculating in cotton and stocks, and became involved to the extent of a quarter to half a million dollars. He left on the Indianapolis train this afternoon, but was arrested by telegraph at Seymour, Ind., and will be brought back at eleven o'clock tonight, and bailed in $50,000 to appear at the police court to-morrow. It is charged that he has obtained large amounts from banks on fraudulent drafts, and on paper to which he forged the name of Dr. Lewis Rogers, his father in law, and other prominent persons and business men. Nearly every bank in the city is a loser. Alwood was most highly connected, and the affair is creating profound sensation in this city.

Cardinal Antonelli and the Pope.
LONDON, August 15.

The Daily News has a special despatch from Florence, stating that it is rumored there that Cardinal Antonelli has quarrelled with the Pope and threatened to resign should the latter persist in the policy of hostility to the Italian government, and also that Antonelli requested the Clerical journals to refrain from publishing the speeches of the Holy Father.

New York Affairs.
New York, August 15.

The North German Brig Juno, Freirich, Savannah Lower, for Stettin, put here in distress, having lost six men by yellow fever. The British ship Cathedral, from Pensacola for Liverpool, put in leaking badly. Nine feet water was in her hold. She will repair here.

Label Suit.
CHICAGO, August 15.

Blanton Duncan sues the Chicago Tribune for one hundred thousand dollars, for a libel published on the 10th instant.

Storm.
New York, August 15.

A terrific storm from midnight to daylight extended throughout the State.
Trains are delayed.

MIDNIGHT DISPATCHES.

Washington Affairs.
WASHINGTON, August 15.

The President arrived this morning and leaves again to-morrow night.

The Cabinet meeting will be held tomorrow.

Several appointments, generally of minor importance, were made to-day.

They consisted principally of Consuls, Postmasters and Indian Agents, none of interest to the South.

The President will on Saturday, give Gov. Bard an official reply to the invitation extended to him and Cabinet, to visit Chattanooga and Lookout Mountain.

The Commissioner of Patents to-day extended the patent of J. E. Pland, of Macon, Ga., for metallic bands or ties for bands.

The President to-day ordered pardons made out for David Collins, Wm.
Teal, Amos Owen and Wm. Scruggs, Km Klux prisoners now in the Albany penitentiary. Some days will elapse before this can be done, and it will be necessary to obtain official information as to the place and time of conviction.
The other persons suggested by Col.
Whitely for pardon will be subsequently considered.

The following were appointed International Revenue storekeepers in the Sixth District of North Carolina: Gaston Bennett, A. C. Regan, Wilson A.
Bernett and W. A. McCorkle.

Three hundred and fifty dollars as a tribute from the conscience fund was received at the Treasury from an anonymous New Yorker to-day.

The Treasury balances at the close of business to-day were, coin, seventy and a half millions, including thirty and a half millions in coin certificates; currency, eight and a half millions.

New York Affairs.
New York, August 15.

It is stated that Jim McKee arrived this A. M., and O'Brien is in Philadelphia. No prospects of a fight.

A terrific thunder storm occurred last night, the rain falling heavily from midnight till near day-light. The storm yesterday afternoon and evening in the interior of the State was very heavy.
At Oswego the stream was raised by the rain so high that the Railroad bridge is deemed unsafe and trains have stopped running.

The German bark, John Frederick which arrived last night has left for Savannah.

The Lamar, for Stettin, has arrived with nine of her crew sick with yellow fever, of whom six died prior to August 7th, since which time, the vessel has been drifting along the coast from Hatters with one seaman and the cook sick with yellow fever. She was fallen in with off Sandy Hook yesterday by a pilot boat and towed into the lower quarantine; her passage have been one of horror.

The brig Liberty Devereux, arrived last night from Mansamilla, having lost one man in the voyage. Three are sick on board, but the captain and crew deny having the yellow fever. The hospital doctor here, however, has no doubt that the sickness is yellow fever.

Twenty-three cases of sunstroke occurred in this city yesterday, five fatal.
Seven cases occurred in Brooklyn.

The Sun says, M. Mayorga, agent of Cuba, states that the project of a Cuban filibustering expedition being formed in Canada is false.

The heat to-day is again excessive, but the weather is cooler by five or six degrees than yesterday. The thermometer in doors to-day 99, in the shade outside 89.

Greely's Speech at Portland.

PORTLAND, August 15.

The following is the address of Mr.
Greely in the City Hall yesterday:
Mr. Chairman, ladies and gentlemen: It is certainly true that throughout the course of my life, so far as I have been connected with public affairs, I have struggled with such capacity as God has given me. For first impartial and universal liberty; second, for the union and greatness of our common country, and third, and by no means least, when the former end was attained, for early and hearty reconciliation and peace among our countrymen. For these great ends I have struggled and hope the issue of the third is not doubtful. I thoroughly comprehend that no personal consideration has drawn this vast assembly together; other higher and grander considerations have collected you around me to-day.
It is part of the unwritten law of our country that a candidate for the Presidency may not make a speech in vindication and commendation of the principles whereupon he is supported, or the measures which his election is intended to promote, though a candidate for Vice President is under no such inhibition. I not merely acquiesce in the restriction; I recognize and affirm its propriety—the temptation to misinterpret and misrepresent a candidate for the higher posts is so great, the means of circulating such pervasions among people who never see a word of their refutation, are so vast, that a candidate has no moral right to submit facts to the people, he must believe if not invite by taking part in the canvass, yet there is a truth to be uttered in behalf of those who have placed me before the American people in my present attitude which does them such honor that I claim the privilege of stating it here and now, this is that triumph that no person has ever yet made the fact known that he proposed to support or actively did support my nominations, whether at Cincinnati, at Baltimore or in any action which resulted in sending delegates to either Convention, as the basis of a claim for office at my hands; no one who favored my nomination before either Convention or at either Convention has sought office at my hands either for himself or any one else, nor has any one suggested to me that I might strengthen myself as a candidate by promising to appoint any one to important office. In a very few instances, less than a dozen I am certain, some of the smaller fry of politicians have since my double nomination hinted to me that I might increase my chances of election by promising a post office or some such place to my volunteer corps of correspondents respectively.

I have not usually responded to these overtures, but I now give general notice, that should I be elected, I will consider the claims of these untimely aspirants, after these of the more modest and retiring shall have been fully satisfied. (Applause.)

In two or three instances I have been asked to say whether I would or would not, if elected, confine my appointments to Republicans? I answer these by pointing to the plank in the Cincinnati platform, wherein all who concur in the principles therein set forth are cordially invited to participate in their establishment and vindication.

I never yet heard of a man who invited his neighbors to help him raise a house and proceeded to kick them out so soon as the roof was fairly over his head, for my own part I recognize every honest man who approves and adheres to the Cincinnati platform, and as such fully entitled to my confidence and friendly regard.

One other point demands a word.
Those adverse to me ask what pledges I have given those lately hostile to the Union, to secure their favor and support.
I answer no man or woman in all the South ever asked me directly or through another any other pledge than that I would surrender down to this moment: no Southern man ever hinted to me an expectation, hope or wish that the rebel debt, whether Confederate or State, should be assumed or paid by the Union, and no Southern man who could be elected to a Legislature, or made Colonel of a militia regiment even suggested the pensioning of all the rebel soldiers or any of them even as a remote possibility. All who nominated me were perfectly aware that I upheld and justified Federal legislation to repress Klux conspiracy and outrages, though I had long ago insisted as strenuously as I now do, that complete amnesty and general oblivion of the bloody past would do more for the suppression and utter extinction of such outrages than all the force bills and suspension of the habeas corpus ever devised by man. Wrong and crime must be suppressed and punished, but far wiser and nobler is legislation, the policy by which they are prevented—From those who support me in the South, I have heard but one demand, justice; but one desire reconciliation; they wish to be heartily reconciled at peace with the North on almost any terms which do not involve the surrender of their manhood, they ask that they should be regarded and treated by any Federal authority as citizens not culprits, so long as they obey and uphold every law consistent with equality and right. They desire a rule which alike, for white and black, shall encourage industry and thrift and discourage rapacity and villainy. They cherish a joyful hope in which I fully concur that between the fifth of November and the fourth of March next, quite a number of Governors and other dignitaries who, in the absurd name of Republicanism and loyalty have for years been piling debts and taxes upon their war-wasted States, will follow the wholesome example of Bullock, of Georgia, and seek the shades of private life; the darker and deeper those shades the better for themselves and for mankind, and the hope that my election may hasten the much desired reign of thieves and carpet-baggers, has reconciled them to the necessity of supporting me, many who would otherwise have hesitated and probably have refused to follow.

Citizens, the deposed and partially exiled Tammany ring has stolen about $30,000,000 from the City of New York.
That was a most gigantic robbery, and hurled its contrivers and abettors from power and splendor to impotency and infamy, but the thieves carpet baggers have stolen at least three times that amount, stolen it from people already impoverished and needy, and they still flaunt their prosperous villainy in the highest places of the land, and are addressed as honorable and excellences. (Applause.) I think I hear a voice from the honest people of all the States, declaring that their iniquity shall be gainful and insolent no longer at the farthest than the fourth of March next.

At that time a national verdict will be pronounced, that will cause them to "fold their tents like the Arabs and as silently steal away," and that I trust will

IRREVERENCE.
"THERE MAY BE SOME DEMOCRATS PRESENT WHO ARE REPENTANT AND LIKE TO PREACH TO SINNERS. YOU HAVE HEARD OF THE FELLOW WHO SAID, 'I CAME NOT TO CALL THE RIGHTEOUS, BUT SINNERS, TO REPENTANCE.'"—Dolan in his speech at Raleigh.

WHO IS TO BLAME?

The editor of the Weldon News grows facetious in referring to the Raleigh Dailies and the returns of the late election as received in this city and sent forth to the expectant people. It desires to hold us responsible for the unreliable returns which were sent to Raleigh for some four days after the election, when in fact we were the dupes, innocently so, of parties who allowed themselves to be carried away by their own zeal for the cause. The figuring done in the News and Sentinel offices was based upon just such telegrams as this:

"WELDON, N. C., August 2.
We have made a net gain of over 100 in this precinct—we have gained everywhere in the East."

This dispatch was undoubtedly sent in good faith, and as such received—but it only held the cup to our lips to be dashed away ere its sweets had been realized. Though our friends in the good old county of Halifax polled 326 more votes than they did in 1870, bringing out that vote which had been dormant for many years, yet they were more than matched by Radical villainy and cheating, and when we get the full result we find that we have actually lost in the county eighty-four votes. This was the food upon which we were fed for more than three days—the Republicans had information of the same character—and when the conflicting returns commenced coming in, no Babylonian scene could have surpassed the utter chaos of the figures of the best mathematician.

We have not apologized for our figures, for we did not deem it necessary with a reasoning public, who must have seen the character of the dispatches as at first received and those received after we had been led to believe that Merriam had received a majority of the votes cast in the State, and we trust our friend, after the "home" telegram we have quoted him, will concede that he has done injustice to the editors of Raleigh.

We still believe that Judge Merriam has been elected by the honest vote of the State by several thousand majority, and when the touchstone of truth shall have been applied to it by an honest Legislature, Caldwell's fraudulent majority will vanish like the mist before the noonday sun. And if we are not mistaken, many of the first returns received by us will prove to have been correct when it is ascertained how much fraud was perpetrated, even after the election, to save the Republican party from a defeat which would have been positive death to it.

THE REPRESENTATIVE FROM TYRRELL.

In our list of members of the new Legislature, as published a few days since, we stated that Dr. E. Ransom, Rep., had been elected from Tyrrell. We are pleased to learn that this is a mistake, and that the good people of that county has sent a thorough gentleman and a good Conservative in the person of Bartlett Jones, Esq. We apologize to the people of Tyrrell for having saddled upon them a man whom they have declared shall not represent them.

CARPET BAGGERS.

Under this head, the Newbern Times asks the question: "Will the Democratic press of North Carolina, and Horace Greeley tell us what thirty thousand Southern men are doing in New York City, do the people of that great metropolis, and throughout the entire North, think any less of the men who come amongst them to make an honest living? Do they fling opprobrious epithets at them? Call them carpet baggers in derision? And yet they are just as much entitled to that designation as the Northern men who have come South."

This journal evidently means to create the impression on the minds of others, and more particularly, we imagine, with the people of the North, that we of the South think less of men who come into our midst to make an "honest living" and that we "fling opprobrious epithets at them."

Such is not the case, as any one knows and no one should know it better than the editor of the Times. But advantage must be taken of anything by which party capital can be made, no matter how facts are perverted.

At all times, the people of North Carolina have been anxious for those to come amongst us whose object was to better their condition. We needed their energy, their capital and their experience. To all such we gladly extend a welcome. But be it known that for those who come as mere adventurers, who come for the purpose of riding into office on the misfortunes of our people, we have always had the most supreme contempt, and had not North Carolina been visited with such a curse, her condition now would have been far better, her credit would not have been destroyed, her good name would not have suffered.

These men had nothing in common with our people, knew nothing of their wants, alienated the feelings of the black man from his old friends, the whites and every step they took sunk our proud old mother lower in the dust. It was these same carpet-baggers who, in conjunction with some of her own sons, brought North Carolina to her present condition.

Can a fair-minded people blame the South for their opposition to such a horde of adventurers? Wherever they have been, they have proven the bane of the country, and we shall hail with pleasure the day when we shall be rid of them.

STILL THEY COME.

We publish below an extract from a letter from Hon. Galusha A. Grow, of Pennsylvania, in which he favors Greeley. He is a man of great influence, was a member of Congress for twelve years, and for two terms, speaker of the House of Representatives.

The letter is addressed to Colonel McClure, and is in part as follows:

"I am for Greeley for President. He has devoted a busy life to earnest thought and study on all the grave questions of government policy, and the equally grave questions affecting the welfare of labor, and the development of the industrial interests of the country."
"Starting penniless, friendless and alone in a great city, and struggling for years against adverse fortune, he has achieved unprecedented success. Editing the recognized organ of the old Whig party (in which he had been schooled from boyhood) he was among the first in advocating its abandonment and the formation of the Republican party, where he had to choose between duty to his convictions or fealty to party organization."
"For thirty years with each setting sun he boldly uttered his convictions on the world's public doings of the preceding twenty-four hours, whether political, social, moral, or religious, yet never pandering to the vices of follies of the times. During that whole period, crusade-like, he has championed the universal manhood of the race, and the equal rights of all mankind."

"No one living has devoted more brain power to the cause of universal liberty, or the elevation of fallen and crushed humanity, and few, if any, have endured more of the jeers of gilded prejudice, or the scoffs of bigoted error. Yet to-day the leading ideas for which he has struggled so long with unyielding tenacity are incorporated into our organic law and are stamped indelibly upon the pillars of the Republic."
"And now when a great political party through its regular organization selects such a man for its standard bearer, I hail it as the dawn of a brighter and better day. The Democrat who can lay aside his party prejudices of a life-time, and accept the foremost and ablest representative of the ideas of his former political opponents, gives the best evidence he can furnish that he is ready to let the dead past bury its dead, and to act for the living present."

"When the people of one section of the Union, despite the education of their entire section, rally around the standard of a man who for a third of a century they have been taught to hate as their deadliest foe, they give the best evidence that with them the animosities of the past are buried forever. It is in this way, I believe, that the Union ever is restored to peace and lasting reconciliation."
"A victorious party in a carnival of blood cannot in this age convert itself into a party of perpetual hates. When the vanquished are ready to close the bloody chasm and bury forever the animosities engendered in the deadly strife, returning over the graves of their dead ones and through the bitter memories of the past to grasp in fraternal concord the hand of the victor, where is the patriotism that would repel the proffered offer?"

The Episcopal Church at its organization in Louisiana, in 1838, numbered 150 communicants. This year the number is reported as 3,355, an increase of 510 over the year previous, and this without any gain by emigration.

THE ALBANY PRISONERS.

The public has seen the letter of Gerritt Smith in regard to the Southern prisoners confined at the Albany penitentiary, and knows of the appointment of Colonel Whiteley to visit them and ascertain their condition, and whether they were fit subjects of Executive clemency.

Every one is familiar with the injustice which some of these men were treated, some of them, guilty of no crime, were frightened into a confession, and are now suffering for it, others were convicted on the testimony of perjured witnesses, and at this late day, President Grant's attention is called to the case and the recommendation of Mr. Smith is made in such a public way that he could not but comply with it.

Of Colonel Whiteley, the press of the country speak unfavorably and one journal says it would give no credence to a narrative coming from a source so disreputable.

Now, we have no idea that this action of the President is prompted by any motive of mercy, the circumstances of the case were, or should have been, known to him before this, and if he was ignorant of them, he is guilty of a criminal neglect of duty. But he hopes to do something for his cause, to interest the feelings of the people for him by an act of pretended mercy. We should be glad to see these poor men again at liberty, but why has their condition not been inquired into before? Why is it done upon the eve of the election?

The fact that it is merely a campaign card is too apparent, and no one will be deceived by it.

PENNSYLVANIA.

The struggle between the two parties in Pennsylvania is daily growing in interest and the country is anxious to know the prospects of each.

It is true that something depends on the issue of the contest in that State, yet we do not attach such importance to it as to imagine that the Presidential campaign will be decided by the vote on the State ticket.

As far as our observation has extended, we scarcely think the contest there will result otherwise than in a Democratic victory.

Large numbers are daily coming over to the Liberal movement, and among these may be mentioned many of great influence.
Grant is very unpopular in that State, Hartruff, his candidate for Governor, will be defeated by Mr. Buckalew, who is supported by the Democrats and Liberal Republicans.

A reliable journal of that State mentions meetings all over the State, in which Democrats and Liberals act in perfect harmony, and a complete revolution is manifest. This movement is not confined to any one section, but all over the State; men of formerly opposite political opinions are joining hands for the good of the country.
Liberalism is gaining ground every day, and the indications are almost positive that the State will go Democratic.

THE ERA.

The Era, of Thursday, takes the News to task on account of an article which recently appeared in our columns in regard to the position taken by Messrs. Sumner, Banks and others, in the present political situation of the country, and charges the Democracy with inconsistency in supporting their course.

The Era should remember that we commend their conduct at present, which is far different from what it was in the past. Then, we opposed their public acts, the Era commended them; now we are working for the same end and the Era is censuring Mr. Sumner for what it admired him then.
The support of these gentlemen involves no inconsistency on the part of Democrats, but Republicans are the guilty parties.

THE FALL CAMPAIGN.

Now that our State election is over, it is a matter of great importance that our attention be turned to the Presidential campaign, and that preparations be made for a most thorough organization.

In consequence of the very small majority by which the State was carried in the interests of Caldwell, the Republicans will exert themselves to carry it for Grant in November.

We should be watchful, earnest, nothing should be left undone which will aid us to achieve success. It behooves all good men to labor in the cause of reform. Organize thoroughly and the result need not be questioned.

FORTY-SECOND SENATORIAL DISTRICT.

The following official vote of the 42d Senatorial District will show that Dr. Love has been returned to the Senate by a handsome majority:

	DICKY.	LOVE.

Swain county gave Merriam 332 votes and Caldwell 29.
This is ninety-seven per cent. of the entire vote, and makes Swain the "banner county" in the State in polling the largest per cent. of Conservative vote.

THE RECONSTRUCTED FARMER.

The August number of this monthly, which is now published in the News office, will be issued in a few days. We desire to extend the circulation of the FARMER in connection with the News, and for that purpose will club the two at the following rates:

DAILY NEWS and FARMER one year, $3.50 WEEKLY " " " " " " " " 3.00

The FARMER is still under the editorial control of Captain James R. Thigpen, of Edgecombe, a farmer of sterling worth and great experience, and we would be pleased if the friends of the News would assist us in forwarding its circulation.

MAINE AND VERMONT.

The eyes of the people are now turned with interest to the elections in Maine and Vermont.

It has been ten years since the former State gave a Democratic majority, but it is said that there is fairer opportunity for success now than ever before, and at any rate the Republican vote will be lessened to a very great extent, thus encouraging the friends of Greeley and Brown in the Presidential campaign. Vermont will go for the administration candidates, but by a reduced majority.

Sentenced to Marriage.

A case recently tried before the Clonmel (English) Assizes was brought to a singular and novel termination by the presiding Judge. The parties in the case were a young man and a young woman, both of whom claimed possession of rural property, one by virtue of an ancient lease, and the other under a will. They were in court for the purpose of giving their testimony, when a bright idea occurred to the Magistrate, a Mr. Clarke, who interrupted the case to say:

"It strikes me that there is a pleasant way to terminate this law suit. The plaintiff appears to be a respectable young man, and this is a very nice young woman. [Laughter.] They can both get married and live happily on this farm. If they go on with law proceeding it will be frittered away between the lawyers, who, I am sure, are not ungallant enough to wish the marriage may not come off."

The young lady on being interrogated blushed, and said she was quite willing to marry the plaintiff. The latter on being asked if he would wed the young woman gallantly responded, "Most undoubtedly." Mr. Clarke remarked that the suggestion occurred to him by instinct on seeing the young couple. A verdict was subsequently entered for plaintiff on condition of his promise to marry defendant within two months, a stay of execution being put on the verdict till the marriage ceremony is completed. The counsel gave the young lady such an unmerciful "chiding" on her consent, which many in court thought should have been obtained from plaintiff, that she left the court in tears.

THE GREAT DROUGHT.—For sixty or more miles, in all directions, corn is being brought to Fredericksburg to be ground into meal. Streams never before known to fail have been exhausted. On many estates it seems that a corn famine has been inaugurated, and yet in most of the counties to which we refer occasional good crops will be made. The rains have been far more than ordinarily partial. On one farm no rain to wet the ground an inch deep for several months, whilst it may be a mile or two distant the rains have proved sufficient to make at least a partial corn crop.—Virginia Exchange.

Two hundred and eighty-three thousand dollars is the sum that will be divided among Commander Cushing and the crew of the picket boat that destroyed the ram Alabama.

Thorp, who keeps the American bar and restaurant in Paris, is said to have made $25,000 in the last three years.

We have had your Machine in use in our family for four months, and can safely recommend it to the public for its simplicity, beauty as a piece of furniture, and as a "help" to those of us with large families. It is a "sister" son. We have made with it, in addition to the usual household work, over one hundred garments, large and small, including Pants, Coats, Dresses, &c., some of which were heavily trimmed, two of the dresses containing from 100 to 125 yards of ticking. It is worked with much ease, requiring but little exertion. We would not be without one for three times its cost.

The Next Elections.

California will hold an election for various county officers on the first of September. The election will not probably bring out a full vote of the State, but may serve to indicate how the State will go in November. At the last election, in 1871, Boeth, Republican, was elected Governor over Haight, Democrat, by a majority of 5,064, the vote being, For Boeth, 62,581; Haight, 57,517; total vote, 120,101. At the same election the aggregate Republican majorities in Congressional Districts was 5,474.

Vermont has an election for State officers September 4. The State is considered one of the most reliably Republican in the Union, and will probably continue to be so in this election. In 1870 it gave Stewart, Republican, for Governor, a majority of 21,309 over Heaton, Democrat, the vote being: Stewart 33,367; Heaton, 12,058; total vote of the State 55,425.

Maine holds an election for Governor, Legislative and State officers September 9. The contest is exciting a good deal of interest, and will be a warm one. In 1871, Perham, Republican, was elected Governor over Kimball, Democrat, by 10,631, in a total vote of 106,908, of which Perham received 58,747, and Kimball 48,126. In 1870, the Republican majority for Governor, was 9,506. Maine has been steadily Republican for fifteen years.

Colorado Territory votes for delegates to Congress and for Colorado minor officers September 20. Colorado has been a Republican Territory by a small majority. In 1870, it gave Chaffee, Republican, for Congressional delegate, a majority of 1,393 over Miller, Democrat, in a total vote of 11,508, the vote being Chaffee 6,450; Miller, 5,058.

Indiana will hold an election for Governor, State officers and members of the Legislature October 8. The political character of the State is sufficiently variable to make its elections interesting, and approaching one will, on Presidential account, be unusually so. At the last election in 1870, for Secretary of State, the Democrats carried the State by a majority of 2,568 in a total vote of 343,532, and elected a majority of the members of the lower House, the Senate, however, remaining Republican.

Ohio also holds a State election on the 8th of October. The State is strongly Republican. Noyes, Republican, was elected Governor in 1871 by a majority of 20,158, over McCook, Democrat, the vote being: For Noyes, 238,263; McCook, 218,105; total vote of the State, 456,468.

The State election in Pennsylvania will take place October 8th. In 1871, Stanton, Republican, was elected Governor over McCandless, Democrat, by 14,575, in a total vote of 556,805. In 1869, Republican, was elected Governor over Packer, Democrat; in 1868, Grant's majority over Seymour was 28,898.

Nebraska holds an election October 8th for Governor, State officers and members of the Legislature. The State gave Grant a majority of 4,290 in a total vote of 15,168 in 1868, and gave Butler, Republican, a majority of 2,478 over Croton, Democrat, in a total vote of 20,343 in 1870.

Iowa holds a judicial election on the 8th of October. The State has been strongly and steadily Republican for years. It gave Grant a majority of 46,350 in 1868, and gave a Republican majority in the election for Supreme Judge in 1871 of 41,254.—Missouri Republican.

FAME.

Tall mountains meet, and giddy greet The clouds in their exalted homes; What may they show, save ice and snow, Unto the fleets that pass their domes?

Their crests are bold with solar gold, Their shimmering cliffs enchant the eye; Yet earth shows not more dreary spot, Than toilers in their heights decay.

There points a peak which mortals seek—Fought are its crags with human wars; Shrill through its fasts shriek envy-blasts, Forever drifts its blinding snows.

Its towering height beams with a light—The wondrous blaze of glory's orb; Still those who gaze feel most the rays, While they who climb no warmth absorb.

Contentment creeps—Renown climbs steep—Where consummations never e'er Below, now oft, when Care's aloft, Unhappiness in dismay fees.
